

Welcome to EPCglobal US!

Congratulations on becoming an EPCglobal US Subscriber!

By subscribing to EPCglobal US, your company has joined a dynamic, global community. We are dedicated to developing global standards for the use of the Electronic Product Code™ (EPC) and Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) technology within the supply chain and promoting rapid and efficient implementation of the EPCglobal Network™. Employing EPCglobal Standards and EPC/RFID technology will provide your company with increased accuracy and visibility at all points in your supply chain.

EPCglobal US is one of more than 101 global Member Organizations (MO) of EPCglobal Inc™, a joint venture between GS1 and GS1 US™. EPCglobal US offers the support tools and services that your company needs to help you get started, build a business case, and implement EPC/RFID technology today!

To get the most out of your EPCglobal US subscription, take advantage of all we have to offer:

- Get involved in the EPCglobal Action Groups to add your voice to the development of standards for EPC technology and the EPCglobal Network.
- Utilize our ever-growing support tools and services to develop your business case and expedite your adoption and implementation.
- Engage in our training and educational programs to get the EPC essentials and to leverage the shared learnings of other EPCglobal Subscribers, technical experts, and EPCglobal staff.

EPCglobal US is committed to providing you with the information, support tools, and services you need to increase the efficiency of your supply chain through the rapid and efficient implementation of EPC and RFID technology. We look forward to helping you optimize your supply chain!
